Fourth of July noise free at Russell's soda fountain—adv.

Miss Silby, assistant matron at the City hospital, is passing a vacation at her former home in Claremont, N. H., and with friends in Boston.

An imperious Ford chauffeur, in swinging his automobile into the Hotel Barre driveway this forenoon, guided the car by accident into a motorcycle, which was leaning against a post on the corner. The motorcycle is the property of Russell Eastman, who learned to his chagrin that the blow had shattered the glass in the headlight. The chauffeur explained that he was looking ahead with a view to steering clear of obstructions farther on when he heard the crash.

TALK OF THE TOWN

Mr. and Mrs. B. P. White of Maple Grove left yesterday for Greensboro, where they have opened their summer camp at Lake Caspian.

Dean Ladd, who recently completed a successful term of school in Plainfield, passed through the city to-day while on his way home to Orange for the summer.

If you like good music, pretty girls and a roaring comedy, don't miss "Marrying Mary" at the Playhouse, Montpelier, June 26. Tickets now on sale at the box office—adv.

A party of golfers from the Meadow Brook Golf club motored to Greensboro Saturday to enjoy the privileges of the Lake Caspian course, among the local men making the trip being Joseph Fraser, F. Leith, Harry McLeod and John Mercer. The visitors were cordially received by the club and urged to make the most of the afternoon's opportunity to try the lake course.

Subscribers to the U. S. Liberty loan bonds through the Barre Savings Bank & Trust Co. are hereby notified that the second payment at the rate of $9 per hundred on their bonds, must be paid on or before Wednesday, June 27, as the money must be in Boston June 28. Anyone wishing to buy bonds on the one-dollar-a-week plan can be accommodated at the above-mentioned bank.

TALK OF THE TOWN

Miss Leontina Casei of Addison place was taken to the City hospital for treatment Saturday night.

Roscoe P. Lynde of Essex Junction, a former resident of Barre, was a week-end visitor in the city.

William F. Littlejohn, who is attached to the officers' training camp at Plattsburg, N. Y., passed the week-end at his home here.

Dr. B. H. Stone, state pathologist, and his assistant, Dr. C. F. Whitney of Burlington, stopped at Hotel Barre while on their way home from Chelsea, where they testified in the case of State vs. Mrs. Anna Felch. While in Washington county the doctors performed an autopsy on the body of Clayton Burke, a young man who died in an automobile Friday night after having been removed from a Montpelier-bound street car.

Among the guests arriving at Hotel Barre through the week-end were the following people: M. J. Read of St. Albans, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Dodge of Claremont, N. H., Cleason S. Cummings and party of St. Albans, G. H. Stiegler of Baltimore, Md., Cosmo Vacco of Bristol, Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Ayers and Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Carwell of Boston, W. A. Dutton and A. B. Thomas of Hardwick, R. O. Skinner of Hartford, Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Wannan of Lowell, Mass., E. A. Corwin of Chelsea and V. A. Corwin of Boston, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Ingerson of Springfield, Mass., Walter Dutton of Haverhill, Louis Hart of Burlington, and Joseph D. Bailey of Philadelphia.

The St. Monica's Sunday school came to a close yesterday, June 24. After the reading of the notes and the presentation of promotion cards, the reverend pastor addressed the graduates, renewing the congratulations which he had extended to them at the early mass, at which they had received holy communion in a body, wearing the papal colors, white and gold. The reverend pastor said in part that it gave him great pleasure to confer upon them the Sunday school diploma, and that he hoped they would prove faithful to the principles inculcated during their years of religious training in St. Monica's Sunday school. The following are the names of those who received diplomas from the hands of the reverend pastor: Lucy Beck, Dorothy Brown, Beatrice Papin, Katherine Sullivan, Sarahfield McNulty, Harold White, Stephen Dineen, James Murphy, Orpheus Bizzozero, Clement McMahon, Louis O'Leary, Francis Quinn. Grade prizes were awarded Rinaldo Provost, Armande Archambault, Katherine Hamel, Pauline Beck, William McNulty, Clarence Sullivan, Anna Lutz, Joseph Roux, Beatrice O'Keefe, Joseph Hennes, Lorette Papin, Balton White, Jeannette Croteau, Edmund Normandeau, Ellen Lavery, Claire Croteau, Elizabeth Haulon, Lucien Paquet, Vedora Kerney, Lorette Marion, Dorothy Starr. The exercises closed with benediction. The graduates proceeded to the annex room at the convent of the Sacred Heart, where refreshments were served.

TALK OF THE TOWN

French sisters, palmists, clairvoyants, over Drown's Drugstore, 50c—adv.

Complete stock of white and figured voiles and linens for sport skirts, also a large stock of hamburger embroideries, Little Dry Goods Store, 5 Cottage street.

Miss Lauree DeBlois, daughter of Louis DeBlois of 93 Maple avenue, who was operated on for appendicitis at the City hospital Saturday, is reported as comfortable this morning.

Mystery surrounding the supposed disappearance of Eli Eno, a retired blacksmith of this town, whose failure to call on Depot square friends at frequent intervals last week caused apprehension among acquaintances, was dissipated on Saturday evening when The Times was informed that Mr. Eno is staying at the Booth home on Farwell street. Mr. Eno is suffering from rheumatism, although he expects to be about within a few days.

A party of fishermen returning from a trip to Brookfield Saturday evening had the experience of seeing the buckboard in which they were riding partially demolished by an automobile. None of the occupants of the vehicle was injured, although the horse was frightened for the moment and promised to make trouble until strong hands grasped the reins. Officer John W. Dineen was near the base of Jockey Hollow hill, where the accident occurred, and after making a careful investigation he reported his findings to police headquarters.

A Sabbath calm settled down over police headquarters Saturday afternoon and had not been disturbed at noon today, there being no arrests for drunkenness of Montpelier, who was arrested Friday night, thought better of his original plea after the police had lodged him in the county jail until he should have a trial and changed his plea, receiving a fine of $15 and costs, which he paid. Israel LaMarre of Barre, after pondering for a forenoon, decided to reverse his first plea and after acknowledging a first offense he arranged to pay a fine of $15 and costs.

Roy Scott, the Washington stage driver, is in the market for a capable horse to take the place of a valuable animal which he lost in a mysterious manner last week. The horse was turned into a pasture near the driver's home at nightfall and on the following morning it was found to have been injured by a bullet from a rifle. The horse was near death when discovered and after an examination of its wound the owner decided to put the animal out of its misery. Mr. Scott does not believe in the spent bullet theory and his friends are trying to solve the mystery.

All members of Winnetta council, No. 10, going to Montpelier Tuesday evening, meet at the waiting room at 8:30.

James Brown, a member of Co. C, passed the week end at his home on Bassett street.

Miss Hattie Lander of South Main street is detained from her duties at the A. P. Abbott store by illness.

Miss Olivia McKnight left this noon for Sugar Hill, N. H., where she will work during the summer at the Sunset Hill house.

Recitals will be given by the pupils of Miss Blanche Spaulding Tuesday and Wednesday evenings in the Universalist vestry, the former evening at 7 and 8 o'clock and the latter evening at 8 o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Sullivan, who were recently married in Port Henry, N. Y., returned this morning to their home in Winthrop, N. Y., after passing a few days at the nurses' home on Elm street. Mrs. Sullivan was formerly Miss Elizabeth Coffey.

Otto Lawrence, a Perrin hill man, is inclined to the belief that a series of misfortunes, to which he has fallen heir, culminated in an accident late last week which left him out of the reckoning in the list of casualties. A month ago Mr. Lawrence sustained injuries in an accident on the Washington road, when a Ford touring car in which he rode, ran into a stone wall. Not long after ward he was on a shingling job for Douglas Roben when the scaffolding gave way and precipitated him to the ground, a distance of 12 feet. The experience was not at all pleasant and Mr. Lawrence was lame for several days after the mishap. Now the wind has dumped his garage on Perrin hill into a nearby ravine, but the owner of the car cannot understand why he was not in the building when it fell.

The parking lot which sent the garage toppling over the bank on which it was perched also took his automobile, but he was standing some distance from the structure when the wind centered its fury on the Lawrence place.

A man whose antipathies to any reference to the flag and to the government seemed rather pronounced occupied a seat in the gallery at the opera house last night while Robert Newcomb of Boston was speaking on "The Seriousness of the War Situation." When the audience arose for "America" there was one man who did not respond. Hecklers in his rear prodded him vigorously until he motioned an explanation which indicated that acute appendicitis or some other affliction was preventing him from participating in the salute. Afterward he laughed so audibly when the speaker referred to the government and to the flag that persons sitting in his rear were disposed to continue their prodding tactics and it was not until the crowd was dispersing that he departed in peace. One man who sat in a tier of seats near the dissenter stated to-day that the dissenter would have been removed bodily from the hall had it not been for the presence of women in the gallery.

Wouldn't Work Twice.

In a Canadian camp somewhere in England a second George Washington has been found. He, in company with several others, had been granted four days' leave, and, as usual, wired for extension. But no hackneyed excuse was his. In fact, it was so original that it has been framed and now hangs in a prominent spot in the battalion orderly room. It ran as follows:

"Nobody dead, nobody ill; still going strong, having a good time, and got plenty of money. Please grant extension."

And he got it.—Pittsburg Chronicle-Telegraph.

Many Feel That Way.

Two negroes were caught in a terrific thunder storm in the South and took refuge in a barn, but before they could enter they were completely drenched.

The thunder crashed and pealed between flashes of lightning and blinding dashes of rain. One of the darkeys thought maybe a little strong language would ease his mind, but his companion remonstrated with him.

"Look heah, yo' Charles Richard—yo' quit yo' cussin'. Don't you know dat Gawd's got yo' completely in His power jest now?"—Philadelphia Public Ledger.

MARSHFIELD

Dean Ladd of Barre, who recently closed a very successful term of school in the Martin district, submits the following report: Pupils having no absent marks for the term are: Ida Martin, Josie Rathburn, Iona Chase, Lettie Richardson, Delma Hartson and Leon Potter. Henry Wilkins was absent one-half day and Milton Chase one day. Mr. Ladd has gone to his home in Barre for the summer.

Flowers found by the pupils of the Martin school during the spring term were: Mayflower, Delma Hartson; yellow violet, apple blossom, Lettie Richardson; adder tongue, spring orchid, wild ginger, white trillium, Indian poke, red plum blossom, white baneberry, caraway, Iona Chase; white violet, white heptagon, Wilbur Cotton; purple trillium, rattlesnake weed, blood root, Dutchman's breeches, robin's plantain, gooseberry blossom, pear blossom, wild pansy, thimbleberry, Nathalie Holt; blue violet, dandelion, silver flower, pin cherry, sugar maple, cut-leaved toothwort, star flower, white alder, Lizzie Potter; strawberry blossom, marsh marigold, wild oat, spreading dogbane, wind flower, bishop's cap, pepper grass, clintonia, Canada mayflower, blue grass, Helen Potter; everlasting, Walter Potter; buttercup, white clover, Ida Martin; bunchberry, lilac, purple cinquefoil, lady's slipper, Henry Wilkins; wild sarsaparilla, milkweed, blue plum blossom, Josie Rathburn.

The Rule of Three.

"I say, old man, can you tell me what is meant by the Rule of Three? My girl asked me about it last night. Never heard of it before."

"Well," said the man at the next desk, with a frayed collar, and an incipient bald spot on his head, "if you wait till you're married, and live with your wife, her ancient maiden sister and their mother, you will know the Rule of Three all right."—Ladies Home Journal.

If.

"Do you think a college education does more harm than good?"

"Oh, no! If a man really has it in him, no college can keep him down."—Judge.
